Hope College

the campus and the nation

1952-53

A yearbook is a book of memories but . . . more often than not . . . only an aid to the memory, for the pictures will bring back a flood of events that can't be recorded in black and white. The limitations of type are many and we can't recreate the inflection in a certain professors voice, the Durfee lounge at 11:59 on a Saturday night or the earnest bull sessions that were so great a part of our college education.

The class of 1953 will remember many things. They will remember the small-college atmosphere when a trip from the Science Building to Van Raalte involved saying "Hi" to twenty people or when the happiness, or grief, of one was shared by many.

This was the year that "Oh Happy Day" was born and died . . . along with something called "It's in the Book." This was a coronation year in England, a year of bloodshed in the Far East, a time of hoping that Europe might somehow bring order from a chaotic past.

This was the year names like Dulles, McCarthy and Marciano made headlines while a campus that was rather conservative in its politics, settled back happily after the November elections.

Some of us reflected on the tremendous heritage that is Hope College's and thought that perhaps we were quite fortunate in our choice of campuses. Perhaps the people who persist in labeling this, our generation, another "lost generation" would not be quite so emphatic if they could have the privilege of experiencing, as we have, the impact of a century of Christian background.

Dedication

In appreciation

Mr. Alvin W. Vanderbush

Mr. Vanderbush, originally from Baldwin, Wisconsin, is a graduate of Hope College, class of 1929. He did his advanced work at the University of Michigan and received his M.A.

After teaching at Grand Rapids South High, he served in the United States Navy as a lieutenant. After his discharge in 1945, he began teaching at Hope and a year later became head football coach. Combining this with teaching in the History and Political Science department, he has achieved a fine reputation.

If an accurate measure of the fame or popularity accorded him is how well he is known by . . . and referred to by a nickname . . . we feel justified in dedicating the 1953 Milestone to "Big Al."

In addition to traditional responsibilities; such as Kangaroo Court, All-college Sing, and Homecoming the 1952-53 Student Council made forward strides in other areas.

The sale of Pep Buttons at Homecoming for new cheerleading uniforms, a Blood Drive, recognition of twenty students in American Collegiate Leaders, establishment of a Publications Board, and a college radio station were a few of the more notable achievements. In November the council sponsored a luncheon with the Board of Trustees which promises to become an annual affair.

The successful strengthening of the student-faculty system was noted in March with a banquet for all committee members. Through meetings with the Blue Key Project Committee and the administration a Student Council Office was included in Van Raalte's remodeling program. Through this office student opinion found constructive expression on vital issues. On the basis of public hearings, debate, and committee reports student-faculty government arrived at decisions on crucial issues. So successful was the operation of the democratic machinery that the emphasis was changed from student to community government.

Queen Nella is crowned.

The crown was presented to Queen Nella Pyle by student Council President Gordon De Pree. Other members of the court were Joyce Van Drunen, Ann Ver Meulen, Arlene Ritsema, Verlaine Siter, Constance Hinga, and Mary Schrier.

Catherine Christie, Jean Harmelink, Marjorie Pickens, Arlene Ritsema, Helena Gill, Verlaine Siter, Constance Hinga, Mary Karsten and Phyllis Luidens were tapped for Alcor.

The ceremony took place in the Chapel with the traditional Freshman girl's daisy chain in attendance. A banquet was held in the Juliana Room and a party at the Literary Club.

The queen is escorted to her throne.

Lining up.

In the sports events the Senior girls and the Emersonians were on top. The women's sports took place in the morning with the Senior girls winning for their fourth consecutive year on campus.

Jesse King won the Jack Schouten Medal for the Emersonian Society with his participation in the afternoon track program.

The Queen's court

The Queen arrives at the game.

The Festivities of Homecoming Weekend began with the Frosh-Soph Pull. This year the contest was declared a draw by the officials.

Friday night, the gym field was the scene of a pep rally at which the captain of the football team, Lloyd Beekman, crowned Barbara Brinks, a Sophomore from Jenison, Mich. Homecoming Queen.

Other candidates for Queen were Ann Ver Meulen, Constance Hinga, Winifred Koopsen, Eleanor Johnson, Carole Hoffs, Barbara Lowing, and Lois Tornga.

The winning sorority – Delphi

Arkies take it again.

Saturday morning there was a parade of floats led by the Queen's float. The central theme of the parade was comic characters with a prize for the best sorority and fraternity float. Delphi and the Arcadians won.

Hope lost the football game that afternoon against Albion. During the half the Queen announced the winners of dorm decorations as Van Vleck and the Cosmo House.

The weekend ended with the Vesper Service held in the Chapel.

Ruth Bloodgood and Bob Dethmers, did an excellent job as co-chairmen of this event.

Both sophs and frosh pulled to no avail.

all college sing

Friday, February 27, the Chapel was the scene of the All-College Sing sponsored by the Student Council. The annual affair was under the co-chairmanship of Anne Finlaw and Nick Pool. All the societies presented their society song and one other selection. The winning groups were the Dorian Sorority and the Cosmopolitan Fraternity. Second place honors went to Sibylline and Delphi Sororities and to the Emersonian Fraternity.

The evening of music ended with the singing of the Alma Mater.

Football

It wasn't the best season ever for the Hope football team — in fact, for Coach Al Vanderbush it was his first year with a losing record since he took over the coaching reins here in 1946. But it wasn't a failure either. The Dutch wound up with an MIAA record identical to the one compiled the year before in their co-champ success, but this time the Albion Britons stormed thru undefeated and the Dutchmen had to content themselves with a solid second position on a 4-1 record. In extra-conference play they took it on the chin four times against a flock of Midwest small college powers.

The season had its ups and downs. Rock bottom was hit in the DePauw affair as the Tigers, in kicking off to open the game, roared downfield to pounce on the loose ball in the Hope end zone for a touchdown, and then went on to rack up four more counters. Facing Kalamazoo in an important conference test on Kazoo's field the week after the demoralizing DePauw encounter, the Dutch, going in as underdogs, rose up to blast the Hornets, 30-14 for the biggest triumph of the season. A pair of well-earned MIAA victories gave them the runner-up spot.

to end the season on a sweet note with a three-game winning streak.

Also worthy of mention is Hope's performance in the Beloit contest, in which they were beaten, 14-0, by one of the best small college teams in the nation, the first Buc team to be undefeated over a season, and the best team in that school's history.

Individual plaudits for outstanding performances go to John Newton, chosen most valuable by his teammates. Lloyd Beekman, captain of the team, Jim VanHoeven and Zeke Piersma, co-captains for next year, and Ken Bauman and Paul Bos, selected, in addition to these four, to the all-conference squad.

Basketball

There were lots of things that a harsh critic could complain about concerning this year's Hope cage squad, but they took the MIAA crown for the second straight season, which is an accomplishment a second-rate bush team wouldn't have been able to do. The Dutch did it on a 10-2 record, which was only good enough for a tie with Kazoo, but in the playoff for the title in the neutral Plainwell gym the Dutch swatted their adversaries by a 91-85 count.

In totaling 1096 points for the twelve conference games for a 91.3 average, the Dutchmen blasted their own offensive mark set by last year's high-scoring squad, whose 85.7 per game had been the highest ever seen by the MIAA.

In most extra-conference games the Dutch went down to defeat, especially on a strange floor. They had their lightning-quick fast break down cold on the shrunken-size Armory court, but on a big one they were generally stymied. With their break dependent on Ron Bos for a trigger-quick getaway, the high-scoring guard's injury, making him virtually inactive the second half of the season, until his sterling performance in the playoff, did inestimable damage to the team play, as is easily seen in the overall record. The squad averaged an all-time high of 87.4 points per game, going over the 100-mark four times, and setting a record 114 against Albion.

With Bos' value to the team increasingly emphasized by his non-appearance in the latter games of the season, it was fitting that he should be given the team's most valuable player selection at the end of the year. Shortly thereafter it was announced by the MIAA office that the fast-stepping guard was also named the most valuable in the conference along with Manny Glasser, Kazoo's sharp center. Voted as Hope's representatives on the all-conference team were Bos and Bob Hendrickson, big center, high-scorer and ace rebounder. Hendrickson landed high in the MIAA individual scoring race and set a new Hope record in heaving thru 448 points in 22 games for 20.4 per. To cap his honors for the year Bos was elected captain of the 1952-53 squad in post season ceremonies.

JV Basketball

This year saw one of Hope's better JV squads of recent years in action, as they racked up a sparkling 4-6 record for the season. Under a new coach and with an above-average sprinkling of talent, the squad swept to victories in three of its last four frays, capping the season with a narrow 69-66 verdict over Calvin's JV cagers. Probably its best performance was in the first encounter with the strong, rugged Western Michigan freshman team, in which the little Dutch scared the Ponies the entire game before bowing finally by a narrow 88-82 margin.

The tilts played to start out the schedule gave promise of as dreary a season as usual, but Coach Larry Green's charges finally snapped into form by whipping Kalamazoo's JVs, after looking good the game before in holding Duane Rosendahl and the rest of the Koop Heating outfit to a 10-point decision. After the sharp showing against the Western boys, the Dutchies went over the 80-mark the next two times out also, dumping a fine Pete's Place aggregation, 87-85, and Economy IGA, 91-85.

Stalwarts on the squad were big pointmakers Harold Molenaar, scrappy guard who paced the team by dumping 139 points over the course of the season, forward Alden Klomparens and center Woody Schultz. Lithe guard Willie Rink was ace defense man, playing a catlike floor game every time and gathering rebounds off the boards adeptly.

Baseball does not face any kind of happy future this year. Last year they were not too impressive and since then graduation has taken, among others, a star pitcher. Willie Rink is assured of the number one pitching role, but after that a question mark emerges. With a meek team hitting average as a remembrance from a year ago, the squad will probably not set the league afire by any means at the plate in this year's play either. However determination and the smell of the All-Sports Trophy plus sensible coaching may help the team go a little farther than the record books might indicate.

Tennis has just about everyone back from last year and then some, so that a favorable final standing is expected at the end of this year. Ron Bos and Warren Exo pace the returnees as they complete their final year of competition. Kalamazoo is again expected to cop the MIAA crown as the net-minded Hornets once more field a strong squad. But Hope is easily rated to take the runner-up spot they were firmly entrench in last year. Strength and depth rate them a solid bet to beat out the other conference schools except for Kazoo.

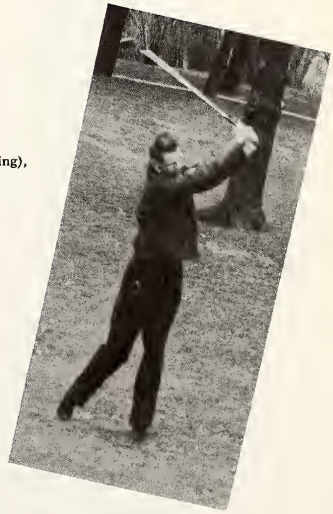
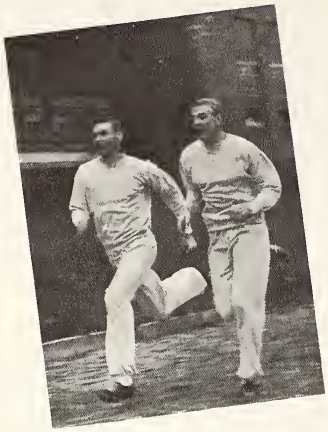
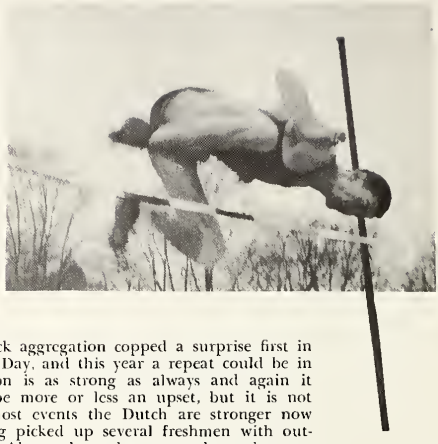
Golf relics this time on untried material. In other words, the squad is in desperate straits. There are only two lettermen from last year's team, and a golf team consists of five men. Senior Don Lubbers and Junior Bob Visser are so far the only reliables being counted on to carry the squad. No one has any illusions about a grand and glorious final standing. At the point of this writing, the prime objective is to field a team.

Golf

Bob Visser, Bob Burrows, Bill Holt, Coach John Visser (kneeling), Don Lubbers (absent).







Last year's track aggregation copped a surprise first in the MIAA Field Day, and this year a repeat could be in the offing. Albion is as strong as always and again it would have to be more or less an upset, but it is not impossible. In most events the Dutch are stronger now than ever, having picked up several freshmen with outstanding ability. About the only event where they are hurting in comparison to last year is the distance, in which graduation took its toll. However this past fall's cross country team took a third and was far and away ahead of the four schools finishing behind them, so that even then they are a worst only about average in the loop. In addition some talent blossoming forth in the frat May Day races, may be secured to strengthen the team in its various events.

CROSS COUNTRY

Top — Knopf, Schrier, Van Zoeren, Schroeder, Lager
Bottom — Green (standing), Hofman, King, Hamilton, Straatsma

Combining their conference dual meet record during the season with a third place position in the MIAA meet at the end of the year, Coach Larry Green's cross-country squad nailed down third spot and eight points toward the All-Sports trophy for their 1952 efforts. In dual meet competition against the other MIAA schools, the Dutch lost to Albion and, by a close margin, to Adrian, while trouncing their other four foes by impressive scores. A loss to Central Michigan gave them a 4-3 dual meet record for the season.

In the all-important meet at the close of the season the Dutch took a third, trailing the powerful Britons from Albion, who totaled only 18, and the Adrian squad, who counted 59, with a 68 mark. Following Hope were Alma on 115, Hillsdale with 127, Kalamazoo 150, and Olivet 179.

First to cross the finish-line among the Hope runners were Jesse King, who came in sixth, and Glen Straatsma, who was eleventh.

In light of the scarcity of experience in this year's squad and the loss of the previous year's mainstays, the Dutch runners and Coach Green, directing them for the first time, have been able to mark it up as a very successful season. Future prospects are not dismal, with both King and Straatsma expected back for next year.

This year several outstanding Senior Students were selected to appear in "Who's Who Among Students in American Colleges and Universities. Their biographies will appear in the '52-'53 edition of this book. The faculty selects these students and the award is based on scholarship, leadership, citizenship, participation in worthwhile activities, and future promise of service to society.

The Hope Chapter of Blue Key, National Collegiate Honor Fraternity for senior men, chosen for individual attainment, began their year of service with thirteen men. Blue Key was responsible for the football programs for all home games. Don Lubbers and Carl Schroeder labored long and successfully in producing a gaily-colored Student Guide. Warren Exo was in charge of the basketball programs. Profits from this year's book store went toward financing the renovation of Van Raalte Hall's basement. Our officers were: Don Hillebrands, president; Carl Jordan, recording secretary; Randall Bosch, corresponding secretary. Store manager for the year was Wayne Tripp.

Alcor, the senior women's honor society at Hope, is composed of members having a record of high scholarship, leadership and service. With great enthusiasm, Alcor launched a new project this year which was to run the Kletz on Friday nights. The group put on several enjoyable Coffees and also sold food every Wednesday night in the dormitories and fraternity houses; this made it possible to award a scholarship to a sophomore girl with a high scholastic record and to give a gift to the school.

The activities of the YMCA center around its motto, "Make Christ King of This Campus". Religious Emphasis Week held early in February is the high-light of the year. Weekly meetings provide spiritual inspiration for all members, and the many social activities, beginning with the beach party for new students in September. The Y reaches into Missions with its Mission Drive in December. This years offering was to Rev. Kempers work in Chiapas, Mexico. Deputation work to local churches affords Y members practical experience in Christian service. Christian fellowship is the aim of the Hope College YMCA.

The Y.W.C.A. has enjoyed a year of Christian inspiration and fellowship. A banquet was held in honor of all newly initiated Y members. Weekly meeting proved beneficial throughout the year. Several Splash and skating parties were a welcome addition to campus social life. By collecting clothes and toys for needy families we received the blessing of sharing our Christmas spirit with others. Rev. Englund was guest speaker for Religious Emphasis Week, a time which brought the opportunity of renewing and strengthening our faith. In looking back over our activities, the Y.W.C.A. is grateful for a year of rich blessing.

The Women's Activities League has again completed a year's program of social activities and service projects catering to all campus students. In the beginning of the year the tea for new students and the Big-Little Sister Beach Party were featured. As the year progressed, a Hallowe'en masquerade, a Christmas party, and May Day were the gay social events sponsored by W.A.L. Service projects included an informal lecture on interior decorating, movie nights, and the Penny Carnival for CARE. This all-college women's league is composed of representatives from each sorority and class and from the various women's organizations on campus.

Alpha Chi is a society composed of students preparing for the ministry and of other students interested in Christian service. The group is organized for the purpose of providing enjoyable Christian fellowship and spiritual growth. Its yearly schedule includes joint meetings with Kappa Delta and the Adelphic Society of Western Theological Seminary, inspiring talks by prominent speakers and informal discussions. Alpha Chi was served this year by officers: Ed Viening, Pres.; Wayne Olson, Vice Pres.; Harold Goldzung, Secretary; and Dick Huls, Treasurer.

ΑΣΑ

Alpha Sigma Alpha, our freshman sorority, wasted no time in not so formally initiating us to college life. Our first project was the Homecoming float, which succeeded in winning an honorable mention. The informal party, An Evening in Paris, was a great success in the Warm Friend Tavern, and the All-College Sing was next on the agenda. The year was climaxed by our formal at the Spring Lake Country Club. Alpha Sigma Alpha ushered us into a wonderful year in which we learned to stress friendship and service, and it is not with a little bit of regret that we leave it to go on to other groups.

House party

Ain't she sweet?

As the sorority year draws to a close we look back over it with a feeling of regret that it has all ended too soon for it was another year filled with friendship, truth and progress. Memories of this year will never leave us. First in our memory book is the traditional Delphi house party held this year at Castle Park. Activities began here under the capable leadership of Marjorie Dykema, Barbara Moessner, Rosie Tardiff and Helen Howard. Soon after this, bidding our new pledges in true Delphi style, we made our way to the Ranch House in Grand Rapids with corsages, honking horns, blue and yellow streamers and the flush of excitement on our cheeks. Homecoming found us happily greeting our alumni at the Delphi luncheon before the game. At the game all the Delphians were overjoyed when the Delphi float won the women's float cup. Soon after this came our informal. Setting a new custom the informal was staged in the romantic atmosphere of the Pantlind Hotel. In the winter election, Nella Pyle, Carol Buseman and Jeannette Kruiswyk were elected to guide us through the big occasion of the Sing, Formal Initiation and the St. Patrick's Day Tea.

"My prize example"

"— I believe in Dorian"

The Dorians commenced another fervent year with their usual fall slumber session. At Homecoming time the Dorian pilots produced a space ship by which "Hope Conquers Space and Time." The Yuletide season found us shopping for gifts for our Christmas family and wrapping them at our annual party. Thirteen new members took the Dorian oath at formal initiation, and a short time later the group celebrated at the annual formal, "Winter Cotillion." The All-College Sing brought our greatest happiness when our capable director enabled us to drift straight into first place via "Clouds". The Dorian Millinery held its grand opening on the night of the Penny Carnival, presenting the "Dorian Dache" originals. Our spring fun was augmented by hikes and finally our informal party. With these rich memories behind us, we eagerly look to the future for those yet before us.

ΣIB

Sibylline increased its traditional shine from the beginning of the year until the end. Capturing the spirit at our houseparty, we went on to welcome our pledges with a dinner and a hike and breakfast. At Homecoming, the Sib "Grandma" float contributed to the fun, and our Alumnae Luncheon at the Eten House helped to renew old friendships. Our hayride-square dance date-night was a big success. In January, Sibs and dates floated off to the formal called "Drifting and Dreaming" and everyone had a "dreamy" time, naturally. There was an extra sparkle in Sibylline eyes at the All-College Sing when we tied for second place under the direction of Connie Ferguson. Friendship and co-operation were the keynotes not only of the Sing but of the rest of the events: the Penny Carnival, the literary and joint meetings, and the climax — our spring informal.

Hot-cha!

With usual fun, friendship, and gusto the door to the forty sixth year of Sorosis society swung open at the fall house party at Castle Park. Following close on the heels of the house party was the reception of new members and the delightful dinner at the Red Brick Tavern. Homecoming brought all Sorosites out to dine with their sister Alumnae at the Grill Room of the Warm Friend. Silver stars and a large silver moon glittered on Sorosites and beaux's at the informal party in November. Christmas spirit and gaiety presided at the annual Christmas Tea. "Puttin' on the Ritz" for their guests at the formal party proved to be a gay diversion for Sorosites in March. Fun was the order of the day as we treated our dates to a terrific Dune Supper at The Castle in May. Afterwards Sorosites gathered at a house party in honor of the seniors.

Saturday morning finds the Thetas shuffling around with half-closed eyes, as they fulfill the girls' dreams of breakfast in bed. Between these weekly tasks you will find them singing and playing at the beach picnic for the pledges; applying their artistic ability and ingenuity on their Homecoming float; sharing the joy of our Theta sister, Queen Barbara; and hoping the bridal shower for Mary will be a surprise. Their formal party, "The Snowball", was just grand and will long be remembered — especially by the two advance scouts. The society not only received nineteen new sisters in the fall, but they also received about 70 new brothers! They are proud to be the sister sorority to the Arcadian fraternity. Fond memories of food, fun, and fellowship will follow all of the girls, and especially the eight who will reluctantly transfer to the alumnae roll.

Chi Phi Sigma began its year of activity with the Homecoming activities. By working hard and long our efforts were well rewarded. For the second year in a row we won the trophy for having the prize-winning Homecoming float in the parade. We also received second place honors on our House decorations. We then went on to take an active part in football, basketball, and baseball. During the year a tennis trophy was won by Bob Moolenaar. The Winter Formal was held on Feb. 13, at the Pantlind Hotel with the theme, "It's Magic", and soon after that we participated in the All-College-Sing. On May 29, our Annual Spring Party was held at Prospect Point. During the year the Arcadian Fraternity has well lived up to its motto of Service, Love, and Wisdom, and has shown itself capable, dependable, and enthusiastic.

"Stu"

The advent of the 1952 college year brought the Cosmos back to the activity of frat life. Life began when the rushing season was declared open. Appealing to social and academic tastes, rushing meetings were able to convince 25 freshmen that Cosmo was the greatest name on Hope's campus. Homecoming brought glory to us when we received first place on our house decorations. The frat had to wait but one week after Homecoming to receive another honor — inter-fraternity golf championship. The next significant event was the Winter Formal — one evening to remember! When February finally came with a flourish of cheers too because we copped first at the all college sing. This was not the end of the year nor the last accomplishment, but merely a prophecy of the success which has not yet been recorded in the scrapbook with the immortal title, "Cosmopolitan Fraternity".

After a summer of relaxation, revelry and the draft board, forty little Emmies gathered armfuls of novels, textbooks and the Student Guide and returned to the Halls of Love, Honor and Success. Rushing season came and after several weeks of debate and deliberation, bids were sent out and naturally accepted by the pledges. Fraternity football saw the Emmie Eleven victors and the men also proved themselves in other sports. Our winter formal party, "Club Paradise", and the spring informal were both highlights. "Who Sails with Drake" piloted by Captain John Scholten was contributed to the Sing and many proved mouthing under water was possible. Strengthened by the success of this year, we look forward confidently to the future.

OKE

The Fraternal Society's one hundred and nineteenth year found its rising sun rising ever higher on the horizon of sports, scholastics, and other accomplishments. This school year held within its span many triumphs for the men of O.K.E. Outstanding events of the year included Homecoming, the "Tuxedo Junction", the Washington Day Alumni Stag, the Sing, the Annual Frater Frolics, and the Spring Party. This year, as every year, Fraternal pledged the best men on campus and reluctantly surrendered to the ranks of the Alumni a great senior class. The Swan Song concluded another year for the men of Fraternal. And it can be assured that wherever a Frater is found, there will also be found friendship, love, and truth.

KHN

Greeting the familiar faces who had returned and becoming acquainted with our new housemother, Mrs. DenHerder, we started out upon another school year with anticipation. Soon pledging brought added talent and industry into our midst. Participating in all sports, the Knicks did particularly well in football and looked forward to winning the softball trophy again (for the 7th consecutive year). Rainbow Reveries were sweet indeed and our spring party at Spring Lake as lively as it sounds. Homecoming, the Sing, May Day, were events that will not be forgotten. Thus as we end another year in the history of Knickerbocker and feel the bonds of comradeship that its experiences have tempered, once more we lift with pride the song of Kappa Eta Nu.

P. & M.'s season opened with a bang and a rabbit. No, not hunting season! The bang was busting balloons at the fall picnic and the rabbit was Mary Chase's Harvey. The next production, Hellman's The Little Foxes, provided audiences with a picture of unscrupulous greed of the industrial South. The fire during the holidays, though seeming at first a tragedy, resulted in a welcome face-lifting for our workshop. The The P.&M.ers took time to see Kalamazoo Civic Player's staging of the Darkness at Noon. One of the most gratifying of the events was the induction of new members into National Collegiate Players. In the Spring, P.&M. produced its first Shakespeare — the rollicking, bawdy Taming of the Shrew.

This year the Hope College debate squad battled with its opponents on the subject; Resolved: The Government of the United States should enact a compulsory Fair Employment Practices Law. The highlights of the year were the novice and state tourneys of the M.I.S.L. at Albion College. The squad also entered several teams in the national Pi Kappa Delta Tournament at Kalamazoo. The teams also debated before various church and civic groups. Under the able leadership of Mr. Ponstein the squad was able to bring home excellent team records and individual honors. Debaters receive a great experience of fellowship and educational attainment in this worthwhile activity.

The English Majors Club opened the season with a lecture "Visiting Stratford-on-Avon, Shakespeare's Home," presented by Professor Prins. The group divided to promote better discussion and individual participation. The group sponsored by Dr. De Graaf and Dr. Brand was concerned with a review and critical analysis of each issue of the Atlantic Monthly. The drama section under Miss Reeverts and Dr. Hollenbach read and discussed various contemporary plays. The novel division, directed by Professors Prins and Ten Hoor, discussed critically various novels. The yearly activities included seeing a play produced by the Kalamazoo Civic Players, and ended with a spring banquet.

The Gamma Omicron Chapter was installed at Hope three years ago, due largely to the efforts of Dr. Hawkinson, now on leave of absence. The National Honorary Fraternity, was founded with the intent to create and stimulated an interest in history, to extend recognition for scholastic attainment in this field of study, and to promote association and fellowship. The activities this year included a discussion on present-day Germany with Reinhardt Koester, German exchange student at the Seminary, a spring banquet at which the honor of membership was conferred to new members, spring discussion meetings, and an election picnic.

In an effort to achieve its main function of promoting peace and world understanding, the International Relations Club has again this year fostered a program toward this end. Some of our activities have included lectures and films of various countries of Europe and their problems. Also, we conducted a drive for Netherland Flood Relief. "Destination Utopia" was the theme of our International Night this year, a new project for the Club. Delegates from the Club were also very active in attending local, regional, and state conferences in the field of international relations.

TRI BETA

Beta Beta Beta is a national honorary biological fraternity established to promote scholarship and to encourage investigation in the life sciences. Biology majors who have maintained a high scholastic standard throughout the required number of course hours are invited to become full members of Tri-Beta. Provisional memberships are open to all students who find the biological sciences of special interest. Student papers, movies, and speakers constitute the monthly programs of the Alpha Eta Chapter. They are designed to be of general interest and of practical value in the student's approach to life.
